

Prior to returning to Rochester to pursue a joint PhD in Music Theory and Brain and Cognitive Sciences, Cory Bonn taught piano in Boston, MA and worked with neurologist Mark Tramo at Massachusetts General Hospital. He studied piano performance at Eastman ('06) and linguistics, psycholinguistics, and philosophy of language through the University's Take 5 Scholar program.